1 Name and Definition

- 1.1 The Green-Rainbow Party is an autonomous independent political party sharing kinship with other Green Parties and Green organizations in the USA, through our common adherence to the Ten Key Values (See Articles 2 and 16). The Green-Rainbow Party also shares common goals and values with other Green Parties and Green organizations around the world.
- 1.2 The Green-Rainbow Party will take all available and necessary steps to insure and protect the integrity of the Green Party name.
- 1.3 The Green-Rainbow Party may effect a change of its official party name by taking all of the following steps.
 - 1.3.1 A resolution proposing a party name change is agreed upon by a two-thirds majority of a State Convention.
 - 1.3.2 Representatives of the party as designated by the State Committee, file a request with the Commonwealth of Massachusetts to officially recognize this new name as the official name of the party.
 - 1.3.3 This name change is approved by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and will not impact the legal and ballot status of the party, the registration status of any party members, and the ballot status of any candidates of the party for office in Massachusetts.
 - 1.3.4 If conditions 1.3.1, 1.3.2, and 1.3.3 are not met, the name change will not take effect.
 - 1.3.5 If a party name change does take full legal effect, the bylaws of the party shall be immediately modified, replacing references to the old state party name with references to the new state party name. Bylaws references to the national Green Party will not be altered. The website and official literature of the party shall also be modified to reflect this new name within a reasonable amount of time.

2 Ten Key Values

The Green-Rainbow Party subscribes to the Ten Key Values of the Greens in the USA, which are:

- Ecological Wisdom
- Social Justice
- Grassroots Democracy
- Nonviolence
- Decentralization
- Community-based Economics
- Feminism
- Respect for Diversity
- Personal and Global Responsibility

- Future Focus / Sustainability

3 Purpose

The purpose of the Green-Rainbow Party shall be to:

- Promote throughout Massachusetts the Ten Key Values of the Greens;
- Encourage the development of Green-Rainbow Locals;
- Serve as a networking structure so that Greens in Massachusetts can better communicate, share ideas and experiences, and provide mutual support and fellowship;
- Nominate Green-Rainbow candidates for elected office (and occasionally endorse independent candidates), and support these candidates with contributions of money and labor;
- Promote unity, inclusion, and power sharing in the broader movement.

4 Membership Rights and Responsibilities

4.1 Membership in the Green-Rainbow Party is open to all residents of Massachusetts, regardless of age, who are not registered voters in another party or political designation and who fulfill at least one of the following criterion:

- Be a registered Green-Rainbow Party (J designation) voter in Massachusetts;
- Be a registered Rainbow Coalition (F designation) or GPUSA (G Designation) voter in Massachusetts through November 30, 2003;
- Pay dues to the Green-Rainbow Party. Fee waivers must be available for individuals who are active participants in the Green-Rainbow Party and are unable to pay due to economic constraints. Any membership application may only require a member to provide a name, address, signature, date signature was signed and whether the member applied for a fee waiver.

Members of the Green-Rainbow Party must uphold the following standards: uphold the Ten Key Values, the By-laws and Structure of the Green-Rainbow Party, be honest and forthright in all dealings, and be scrupulous in the handling of Green-Rainbow Party and/or Green Local funds.

4.2 Members can participate in the decision-making process of the Green-Rainbow Party in the following manner:

- Help form and participate in Green-Rainbow Party locals;
- Vote at or be elected as a delegate to the conventions;
- Be elected as a member of the state committee;
- Be elected as a member of the administrative committee;
- Participate in all Green-Rainbow Party primaries within the confines of state law.

Members who contribute or have a fee waiver are entitled to receive all Green-Rainbow Party publications.

- 4.3 The state committee shall form a mediation committee to handle charges of violation of the above membership standards. Such charges may be made by any member or members. Such charges must be forwarded to the chair of the mediation committee.

The mediation committee shall appoint a three person fact-finding committee, composed of:

- one person chosen by the mediation committee;
- one person chosen by the accused;
- a third person chosen by mutual agreement of the first two fact-finding members.

The fact finding committee will investigate and prepare a report of the extent of truth of the charges, and will report back no later than sixty days. After completing the report, the fact-finding committee will meet with the accused and the accuser to see if a mutually agreeable resolution can be found. If the situation cannot be resolved at this stage, then the dispute will be referred back to the mediation committee. If the dispute cannot be resolved there, then the mediation committee will bring the matter, including the written report of the fact-finding committee, to the next state committee meeting of the Green-Rainbow Party. The portion of the Green-Rainbow Party meeting considering the charges should be closed to observers. A two-thirds vote is required to withdraw the membership of the accused where the burden of proof is on those making the charges. However the process ends, the mediation committee must file a brief minute giving the names of the accused and the accuser, and stating what, if any, resolution was reached.

In the event that the state committee has not formed a mediation committee, the co-chairs shall act as the mediation committee.

5 Meetings and Decision Making

- 5.1 This article shall define the general decision making process for all levels of the Green-Rainbow Party: state and county conventions, state committee, administrative committee and working committees. These general rules may be adjusted by the by-laws to conform to characteristics of each level of the party.
- 5.2 Decisions shall be made through the consensus seeking process defined in the document Addendum A (Consensus Seeking Process), attached to these bylaws.
- 5.3 If consensus cannot be achieved and in order to promote fairness and inclusiveness, a Single Transferable Vote Proportional Representation (STV PR) system shall be used when voting to select one or more proposals or candidates from many. The exact details of this voting system shall be specified in another document that is made publicly available.

We will refer to the number of desired selections as the number of Selections.

A voter must rank her choices with her top choice ranked first, the second choice ranked second, and so on. A voter may choose to rank as many or as few of the proposals as she desires.

Each proposal must receive a threshold number of votes to be selected. In the case when one proposal or candidate is to be chosen, the threshold number of votes shall be $\frac{2}{3}$ of the votes cast. In the case when more than one proposal or candidate is to be chosen, the threshold number of votes is equal to the following formula: $\frac{(\text{the number of voters})}{(\text{the number of Selections} + 1)} + 1$, rounded down to the nearest whole number.

Votes are apportioned among their top-ranked choice. The choices that receive more than the threshold number of votes shall be deemed to be Selected and any votes they receive beyond the threshold shall be reallocated amongst their next-highest-ranked Eligible choices in an equitable manner.

This process is repeated until there are no more Selected choices who have more votes than the threshold. When this happens, the choice that received the fewest votes is deemed Defeated and the ballots for it are apportioned among their next-highest-ranked Eligible choices. The process of Selection, then Defeat, is repeated until all choices have either been Selected or Defeated.

Choices are Eligible to receive reallocated votes if they have not been Selected or Defeated.

- 5.4 Facilitators shall be used for all meetings and each meeting shall implement a technique for assuring equal opportunity for all voices to be heard.
- 5.5 Decisions of Green-Rainbow Locals will be considered in the process but do not directly affect consensus or voting.
- 5.6 Minutes must be recorded at every convention, state committee, administrative committee and working committee meeting of the Green-Rainbow Party, and shall be made available to all members no later than two weeks after the date of the meeting. Except for conventions, minutes shall be read, amended and approved as necessary at the next following Green-Rainbow Party meeting of that committee.
- 5.7 Participants in meetings of the Green-Rainbow Party are expected to treat each other with civility and consideration. Persons who violate this standard may be asked to remain silent and / or leave the meeting by a 75% vote of the other attending members of the meeting.
- 5.8 All Green-Rainbow Party meetings are open and may only be closed to non-members on 75% vote in personnel or criminal matters or if required by law.

6 Conventions

- 6.1 Conventions serve to ensure that the voice of grassroots Green-Rainbows are heard. Within the area the convention covers, the purpose of a convention shall be to:
 - Have members meet and share ideas;
 - Set policy;
 - Change the party platform or endorse positions;
 - Nominate candidates.
- 6.2 All members in the area covered by the convention are entitled to participate.
- 6.3 The convention shall choose its facilitators and other officers as needed. The convention shall adopt its own rules provided such rules to not contradict these by-laws.
- 6.4 The Green-Rainbow Party shall hold at least one state convention every year no sooner than February 1st, and no later than the last day to file certificates of nomination with the secretary of state.
- 6.5 A state convention shall have the following additional purposes:
 - Elect members of the administrative committee;

- Change the by-laws;
 - Decide any other matter as specified in these by-laws.
- 6.6 A state convention can be convened in either of the following ways:
- by a 2/3 vote of the state committee;
 - by a 2/3 vote of the recognized Green-Rainbow Locals.
- 6.7 The state committee shall elect the working committees and personnel necessary for the conduct of the state convention including but not limited to working committees to handle the credentialing of delegates and the drafting of additional rules for the state convention. The state committee shall have final approval of all matters relating to the conduct of the state convention.
- 6.8 The state committee shall notify members and Green-Rainbow Locals of the date of the state convention and the number of delegates each city and town may elect three months prior to the date the state convention is to occur.
- 6.9 The co-chairs and secretary of the administrative committee shall be the co-chairs and secretary of the convention, until and unless the convention chooses other officers.

7 Green-Rainbow Locals

- 7.1 Green-Rainbow Locals form the basic organizing unit of the Green-Rainbow Party. As long as the Green-Rainbow Local adheres to the Ten Key Values and does not undermine the stated purpose of the Green-Rainbow Party, the Green-Rainbow Party cannot interfere with their internal affairs or decision making process.
- 7.2 Green-Rainbow Locals must work to expand their activities, Green-Rainbow Party members, locals and the number of candidates running for office in their area.
- 7.3 There are two types of Green-Rainbow Locals denoted by their level of development: clubs and party committees. The key difference between clubs and party committees is their level of official recognition by the state.

A Green-Rainbow Party club is any group of three or more Green-Rainbow Party members, who meet together on a regular basis to advance the Ten Key Values. These meetings must be open to the public and democratically run. Locals may be defined geographically or by common interest. It can be organized at regional, city, town, ward, precinct, neighborhood or street levels.

A Green-Rainbow Party committee is any group of three or more Green-Rainbow Party members, who meet together on a regular basis to advance the Ten Key Values and is a recognized party committee as defined by state law. It can be organized at city, town and ward levels as a local party committee, or at regional levels as a PAC, People's Committee, or 527 organization.

- 7.4 In areas where no Green-Rainbow Locals exist, members can form either type of local by holding a founding meeting and inviting all Green-Rainbow Party members in the area of the local to attend. The state committee or Green-Rainbow Locals can task individuals or groups of individuals to form locals within their jurisdiction.
- 7.5 Green-Rainbow Party clubs may affiliate with the Green-Rainbow Party by sending a letter to the Green-Rainbow Party indicating that they wish to act as the local representatives of the Green-Rainbow Party in their area. Green-Rainbow Party committees are automatically affiliated with the Green-Rainbow Party, but must send a letter to the Secretary notifying the state party of their existence. The Secretary shall certify the locals.

- 7.6 When Green-Rainbow Locals are voting on matters, such as Article 6.6 (calling a state convention), Article 8.13 (overriding a state committee by-law change or decision), or Article 8.14 (calling a state committee meeting), the following voting rules shall apply.

A Green-Rainbow local shall have votes equal to the number of Green-Rainbow Party members in the local, dividing by ten, and then rounding any fractional amounts upward. Each Green-Rainbow local shall have at least one vote.

Green-Rainbow Locals with two or more votes are encouraged to use proportional representation to reflect the actual vote taken by the local members. For instance, a local with 49 members and 5 votes who decided an issue 30 to 19, could assign 3 votes to A and 2 votes to B. However, the disposition of votes by locals shall be up to the individual locals to decide.

- 7.7 The Green-Rainbow Party may disaffiliate a Green-Rainbow local for the following valid reasons:

- actions by the Green-Rainbow Local in contradiction to the Ten Key Values;
- efforts of the Green-Rainbow Local to undermine the stated purpose of the Green-Rainbow Party.

- 7.8 The state committee may disaffiliate a Green-Rainbow local by first voting to post a public notice to members giving the reasons for disaffiliation and include a statement by the affected local unless the local chooses not to provide such a statement. At the next state committee meeting, the state committee shall vote to disaffiliate the local. If such a motion passes, the Green-Rainbow Local will be disaffiliated from the Green-Rainbow Party and will no longer be considered in the Green-Rainbow Party decision-making process, or allowed to represent themselves as part of the Green-Rainbow Party structure.

8 State Committee

- 8.1 The state committee will serve as the legislature of the Green-Rainbow Party. It shall have general responsibility for the affairs of the Green-Rainbow Party between state conventions. This responsibility shall include:
- Maintaining regular communication with and provide training, information and other services to Green-Rainbow Locals;
 - Formulating and disseminating statements of Party policy and platform;
 - Coordinating and conducting the Party's state campaigns;
 - Raising and disbursing monies needed for the successful operation of the Green-Rainbow Party and its locals;
 - Overseeing the work and decisions of the administrative committee;
 - Filling vacancies in the nominations for statewide and congressional offices;
 - Amending the by-laws.
- 8.2 The state committee shall meet three times a year and at most once a season. The date, time and, if possible, location should be set at the previous meeting.

- 8.3 State committee members must be notified at least ten days before meetings, either in writing or by telephone. Such meetings shall also be announced in the appropriate Green-Rainbow Party publications.
- 8.4 It is the responsibility of the members of the state committee to:
- Actively participate in the business of the state committee, including attendance at meetings;
 - Maintain regular communication and consultation with Green-Rainbow Locals in their area, and keep those locals informed of state party affairs;
 - Expand the number and membership of Green-Rainbow Locals in her state senatorial district or region;
 - Refrain from publicly criticizing party nominees.
- 8.5 The state committee will consist of three groups of members elected or appointed in the following ways. In all cases, state committee members must be members of the Green-Rainbow Party and their term of office will end on or before the thirtieth day following the presidential primary. Although these bylaws describe several methods of electing state committee members, all members other than the 80 elected at the presidential primaries are appointed seats in terms of Massachusetts State Law.
- 8.5.1 Forty women and forty men shall be elected to four year terms at the presidential primaries as described in Massachusetts General Laws. Their terms shall begin on the thirtieth day following their election and end four years later on the thirtieth day following the presidential primary to be held that year.
- 8.5.2 A number of state committee seats, to be known as proportional representation seats (PR seats), shall be created and apportioned to twelve regions. The number of PR seats shall be 40 in 2002 and increase to 60 in 2003. Starting in 2004, the number of PR seats shall be the larger of the number of state committee members elected in the previous presidential primary and the number required for the total size of the state committee to be 60.
- These state committee members shall be elected at twelve regional conventions to be organized by locals in the region. After the presidential primaries, regional conventions shall take place within the time period allowed by state law for the organization of the state committee and again two years later. The terms of members so elected will begin the day following their election and end two years later.
- Eleven regions will be the counties of Berkshire, Bristol, Essex, Franklin, Hampden, Hampshire, Middlesex, Norfolk, Plymouth, Suffolk, and Worcester. The twelfth region will consist of Barnstable, Dukes, and Nantucket counties. Each region shall be assigned at least two PR seats. The number of PR seats assigned to each region shall be determined as follows:
1. For each region, compute the “desired number” of PR seats as the fraction of registered Green-Rainbow Party voters in that region on February of that year multiplied by the total number of PR seats. This number will be left as a fraction to break ties.
 2. Allocate the minimum number of PR seats to each region.
 3. Allocate one PR seat to the region with the largest negative difference between allocated and desired seats.
 4. Repeat step 3 until all PR seats are allocated.

Each region must reserve half (rounded down) of their PR seats for each gender. In the event that there are not enough candidates of a gender, then those seats will remain empty. Candidates must be nominated by at least two other members of the party. State committee members elected in this way may be removed through a 2/3 vote of a regional convention.

In the event of a vacancy of a PR seat and a candidate presents herself, the locals in the region must hold a regional convention at the earliest opportunity to elect a replacement state committee member provided that it is not within six months of another regional convention.

- 8.5.3 The state committee will create additional state committee seats, when necessary, to ensure the diversity of the state committee.

By the end of March in every even year, the State Committee shall receive a report of the racial distribution of the general population of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, including estimated percentages of uncounted individuals and undercounted segments.

The duty for determining the source of this report shall be assigned to a sub-committee of the state committee.

The state committee shall take the figure, contained in this report, for the percentage of the population that are people of color and add 5% to this amount. The result of this addition shall be known as the diversity goal for the purposes of these bylaws. The value of the diversity goal for the year 2002 shall be 25%.

Whenever the percentage of the state committee members who are persons of color fails to achieve or exceed the diversity goal for that year, additional diversity seats shall automatically be created to meet the diversity goal.

In addition, the state committee may, by a 2/3 vote, create or remove any additional diversity seats that it desires, to represent other under-represented groups, such as but not limited to, on the basis of gender, geography, class, and sexual orientation.

Candidates must be nominated by at least two other members of the party. Nominees for unfilled diversity seats shall be appointed by a 2/3 vote of state committee members prior to the consideration of regular business at any state committee meeting. Nominations which are backed by endorsement of issue or identity caucuses directly related to the diversity issue being addressed or by a petition of 25 signatures from such a caucus shall be considered by the state committee first. After this, any unfilled diversity seats may be filled by other candidates.

- 8.5.4 The state committee can establish a subcommittee to work on balancing the requirements of state law and the goals of proportional representation and diversity in the ongoing composition of the state committee membership.

- 8.5.5 Conventions may elect alternate delegates to the State Committee; the central office of the Green-Rainbow Party shall be notified of the results of such elections and said delegates will be recognized by the State Committee as bona fide. Regular delegates have seating precedence over alternates, only regular delegates may vote via email, and the delegation's gender balance must be adhered to.

Bylaw 8.5.5 shall take effect only after a favorable ruling on it's legality from the Secretary of State.

- 8.6 State committee members may be removed with a 2/3 vote of the state committee. The individual being removed from the state committee shall not be allowed to vote.
- 8.7 An individual may resign from the state committee by submitting a letter of resignation to the co-chairs of the Green-Rainbow Party and notifying all Green-Rainbow Locals in their state senatorial district or region in writing.
- 8.8 The state committee may amend the by-laws by a vote of 75%. A state convention may override this change by a majority vote.
- A 2/3 vote of the recognized Green-Rainbow Locals will also override any by-laws change or decision of the state committee, but this method cannot be used to override a by-laws change or decision of a state convention
- 8.9 An emergency or special state committee meeting may be called:
- by a written or proxy vote or a petition of 1/3 of the state committee members;
 - by a petition or vote of 1/3 of the recognized state Green-Rainbow Locals;
 - by a simple majority of state committee members at an assembled state committee meeting.
- Emergency or special state committee meetings would not count towards the limit on the number of state committee meetings.

- 12.9 State conventions or an affiliated Green-Rainbow Local may endorse independent candidates who support the Ten Key Values and who generally endorse the state platform.

13 Legal Requirements for Consideration as a Political Party

- 13.1 The Green-Rainbow Party recognizes that its internal structure may not always coincide with the traditional hierarchical structures evidenced in other political parties and organizations. As required by local, state, or federal law, the Green-Rainbow Party will create committees and/or organizations that comply with any and all necessary legal requirements for ballot access, elections, fund raising, voter registration, etc. These committees and/or organizations will always remain subject to Article 5 of this document, but may be allowed limited autonomy as specified by the Green-Rainbow Party.
- 13.2 The Green-Rainbow Party will seek and maintain statewide ballot access as allowed by state law. This will include, but is not limited to, running candidates for local, regional, state, and federal offices in order to gain and retain ballot access. The Green-Rainbow Party will also reserve the right to exercise legal action (i.e. lawsuits, amica curiae, etc.) as necessary where ballot access or electoral laws are determined to be unduly restrictive or not in accordance with democratic principles.
- 13.3 Candidates representing themselves as " Green-Rainbow" candidates or " Green-Rainbow Party" candidates must be approved through the Green-Rainbow Party nomination process as described in Article 12. The Green-Rainbow Party will utilize all legal means to prevent such self-description by persons who have not been approved through this process.
- 13.4 The constituency of the Green-Rainbow Party will be defined as the body of individuals who are members and in accordance with our principles and by-laws.

14 Other Green Organizations

- 14.1 The Green-Rainbow Party is an affiliated state party of the Green Party of the United States (USGP).

The Green-Rainbow Party may, by any of its regular decision-making processes, also decide to affiliate or disaffiliate itself with national, regional, issue-based, or identity-based Green membership organizations.

 - The Green-Rainbow Party shall encourage its membership to become involved with and donate to the USGP.
 - The Green-Rainbow Party shall encourage its membership to join any Green member organizations that the Green-Rainbow Party decides to affiliate with.
 - The Green-Rainbow Party shall seek representation to the USGP in accordance with the USGP bylaws, and shall choose its delegates from amongst Green-Rainbow Party members to serve as our representatives to the USGP coordinating committee according to the rules defined in Article 5.
 - The Green-Rainbow Party shall seek representation in any other organizations with which it affiliates in accordance with the bylaws of that organization, and shall choose its delegates from amongst Green-Rainbow Party members to serve as our representatives according to the rules defined in Article 5.
- 14.2 The Green-Rainbow Party affirms its agreement with the Ten Key Values of the USGP.
- 14.3 Decisions and rules of the USGP, other Green state parties, or any other Green organizations will in no way be considered binding upon the Green-Rainbow Party.

- 14.4 The selection of Green-Rainbow Party representatives to the USGP and other organizations shall take place at a state convention using the procedures defined in Article 5. Such representatives shall serve for a term of one year, and may not serve more than two consecutive terms as representative to that organization.

The GRP shall reserve half (rounded down) of the seats in its delegation to the USGP and other organizations for each gender. If there is an odd number of seats in the delegation, the extra seat shall be a female seat.

If the organization to which the GRP belongs allows it, the GRP may elect alternates. In general, female alternates shall stand in for female delegates and male alternates for male delegates. Female alternates can stand in for male delegates if not doing so would result in a reduction in Massachusetts' level of representation.

An alternate may vote in the event that a delegate is not able to vote or chooses to let the alternate vote in her/his place. An alternate may not vote in order to override a delegate's abstention.

If delegate or alternate seats are vacant, whether due to resignation, recall, the failure of a convention to elect all vacant seats or the creation of new seats by the USGP or another organization, the State Committee may elect interim delegates and/or alternates to fill these vacancies between state conventions.

- 14.5 The recall of a representative may take place at any state committee meeting. A majority vote of the state committee members is required to recall the representative. Should the representative also be a member of the state committee, she will not be allowed to vote.
- 14.6 If due to resignation or recall, the position needs to be filled, this election can take place at any state committee meeting with the new representative serving until the next state convention.
- 14.7 The duties of such representatives will be:
- Attend meetings of the organization
 - Send to the entire state committee in a timely manner:
 - any proposals put forward for comment
 - how the representative voted on proposals
 - the minutes from all meetings of the organization

Addendum A: Consensus Seeking Process

1) Proposal presentation

The sponsors of the proposal present the proposal as written, along with any background information they think is pertinent, so that the proposal does not exist in a vacuum (e.g., what situation prompted the proposal). There should usually be a 5 minute maximum on this. Facilitators may give longer if the proposal seems to require it.

2) Clarifying questions

Only questions that clarify the wording or meaning of the proposal are allowed. The sponsors answer the questions. If they need help, the sponsors may call on others with technical expertise, someone who was involved in the drafting of the proposal, or anyone else they feel can help. Opinions or concerns in the guise of clarifying questions are not allowed. The facilitator can decide on a reasonable time limit for clarifying questions.

3) Discussion of the proposal

A broad discussion by the group will bring up the issues and constraints involved in the proposal. This should be an exploration, as a group, of the dimensions of the proposal so that all aspects of the proposal and what it attempts to address are explored. Discussion is not a time to merely list concerns about how a proposal might go wrong in one way or another. Instead it is a time to present alternative ways of doing something or ask why the sponsors chose one way over another. To gauge the sense of the group and keep track of time, an initial 10 minute time period is allotted for discussion. Additional 10 minute extension periods can be allotted repeatedly by majority Straw Poll.

4) Call for consensus

After the discussion is over, the facilitator asks "Are there any concerns remaining?" Anyone with concerns that they believe still need to be addressed should say they have concerns. Concerns are all equal at this point. There is never a need to say one has a blocking concern. If no concerns are voiced, then consensus is reached.

5) Listing of concerns

People state concerns about the proposal and its proposed effects. This is not a time to resolve concerns or determine their validity. Each concern is written down. Concerns are grouped where appropriate to identify themes in the concerns. The facilitator can decide on a reasonable time limit for listing concerns.

6) Addressing concerns

The sponsors of the proposal attempt to address each group of concerns. Often someone's concern is a misunderstanding that can be cleared up by the sponsor. The sponsors can modify the proposal to address the concerns if they so decide, or can decide that a concern should have no effect on the proposal as it is being presented. The sponsors are free to accept or reject "friendly amendments" (proposal modifications) from the group that attempt to address concerns. An initial 10 minute time period is allotted for addressing concerns. Additional 10 minute extension periods can be allotted repeatedly by majority Straw Poll.

7) Call for consensus

After the concerns have been addressed there is the call for consensus. Before asking if there are any concerns remaining, the facilitator has the proposal read aloud with the new wording one last time. If the concerns have all been addressed to the satisfaction of the group and no one voices that a concern still stands, then consensus is reached. If anyone still believes the concern that they have has not been addressed, they may say so by saying that their concern still stands. The facilitator at this point asks the person with the concern to "stand aside" and allow consensus to be reached. If the person with a concern will stand aside, consensus is reached.

8) Remaining concerns

At this point, the facilitator allows a small amount of time for the full group to address the remaining concerns. If the concerns cannot be addressed during this time period, the facilitator charges the persons with concerns to caucus with the sponsors of the proposal to see if they can come up with some way to resolve the concerns. While they meet, the meeting moves on to the next proposal. When the caucus comes back, they are put on the agenda immediately following the current proposal or agenda item. The caucus reports whether they have a solution. If a solution has not been found that addresses the concerns, then the process moves to a vote. If a solution is found, it is presented. If there are no more concerns to the reworked proposal, consensus is reached. Otherwise, the process moves to a vote on the proposal.

9) Move to vote

If consensus is not reached, then under GRP bylaws on decision making, a vote is called on the proposal. A two-thirds majority vote is needed for a proposal to pass. In the State Committee, a three-quarters majority is needed to pass a proposal that changes bylaws.

Notes:

- A) At any time, the sponsors of a proposal can withdraw the proposal from consideration.
- B) If any decision is to be made that involves more than one choice, the GRP rules as specified in section 5.3 of the bylaws require that STV PR shall be used, provided that consensus cannot be reached.
